1. Plan Your Sessions!

- Familiarize yourself with the program by visiting the Online Programme for Attendees.
- Log in with your registered email; no password required!
- Create a personalized schedule for a seamless experience.

2. Engage!

- Introduce yourself to speakers, poster presenters, and fellow attendees during breaks.
- Exchange contact details or connect on professional platforms to keep the conversation going.
- Engage with unknown peers; IAFP Europe is a welcoming community of food safety professionals!
- Raise your hand during sessions for questions and discussions.
- Make the most of break times to spark new connections!

3. Learn!

- Take notes and share your newfound knowledge with colleagues — it's a win-win!

4. Network Like a Pro!

- Don't miss the Networking Reception on Tuesday evening, 17:00 – 17:45.
- Organize dinners with fellow attendees and savor delicious Spanish cuisine together!

5. General Tips

- Dress code: Business casual — stay comfortable yet professional.
- Tech courtesy: Silence your phone during presentations to avoid distractions.
- Respect policies: Avoid recording or snapping pictures during sessions. Connect with speakers afterward to request slides.
- Feel free to roam between sessions for the ultimate symposium experience!

It's all about balancing learning, networking, and enjoying the vibrant atmosphere of IAFP's European Symposium on Food Safety.
